

Clearing Negative Energies from Self and Environment

5.10.2017

I ask my Higher Self to direct and my optimal spiritual team aligned with my highest good, truth, and Source to assist. I ask to open up the Crystalline Dimension (this is the 11th dimension or creation realm that is about love) in my home, work yard at the highest level that is comfortable for all occupying space here. I ask to clear myself, (name any other people you have permission to clear), my house through and through, any vortexes under the house through and through (if you have a vortex, you may want someone to help you move it to outside the house), the land and anything on the land, my car through and through, my garage through and through.

I also ask to bring in the vibration of love to transform anything below the vibration of love into the vibration of love. I ask that the crystalline energy (the dimension aligned with love) is spliced into my chakra system, etheric body (blueprint of my mind, emotions, body) aura, and connecting grid (connects you to everybody and everything) into the highest vibration I (and those you're clearing) can comfortable manage. I ask that a beam of light goes into each of my seven chakras deleting, splicing out and transmuting all old memories, beliefs, coping mechanism, heart walls, and anything not serving me.

I ask to bring in the exact opposite, most positive energy of any unhelpful cords, all attachments, all entities, all entity residue, all lost souls, all negativity, all personal, ancestral & karmic issues, anything not bringing me happiness and joy (can name anything else you want cleared) to delete, slice out and transform throughout all time and space and beyond, all appropriate dimensions, all levels of my Being, down to a quanta level (the smallest particle of energy), and all grid systems that effect me and repair into full resolution and love.

I ask that a no time, no space cocoon (picture a caterpillar cocoon around your aura) is around me so that I can process this clearing using this no time, no space zone for a fast processing and upgrade of my energy system.

NOTE: if you're having a difficult time clearing low frequency entities, state: "I ask that my Higher Self pinpoints all negative entities that are dormant, invisible, corded to me, in my energy field backwards and forwards in time that are negatively impacting me. I ask that they are encapsulated in a bubble of loving crystalline energy and spliced out of my energy field. I ask that a tunnel of light appears to the entity and tunnel of light comes to them and they are spliced them into their next highest level journey.

(After clearing feels complete)

I ask to splice in my own Divine Essence/Spirit to fill all voids and spaces. I ask that my Spirit plugs into the circuitry of my brain so it can direct me mentally, emotionally, and physical in all areas of my life. I also ask that the appropriate qualities and energies are spliced in to bring me/them to my next level of growth including love, wisdom, harmony and balance.

(after filled up with positive energies)

I call forth, and splice in, the strengthening and stabilizing energies, adaptability energies and safety and securities energies (and whoever I cleared) so that my mind, emotions and body feels safe and stable with the changes, adapts easily and comfortably to the changes and maintains optimal health and wellness while accepting the positive changes my Higher Self wants for me.. I ask to restructure and recalibrate all energy fields that affect me/them into the pattern that reflects the work done on me, others, and my environment throughout all time and space and beyond, all appropriate timelines, dimensions and universes, or until no longer needed.

I ask that a no time, no space cocoon is around me (picture a caterpillar cocoon) to process all that I've brought in using this no time, no space zone to bring forth a fast processing and upgrade of my energy system.

(after session is done)

I thank my Higher Self for directing. I thank my optimal spiritual team for assisting aligned with my highest good, truth, and Source and thank them for continuing to assist me throughout completion of this process and beyond with my Higher Self directing.
